

A call comes into your main number and you decide how you want your calls routed. Fastmetrics sets up your phone system to mimic or enhance your current setup.

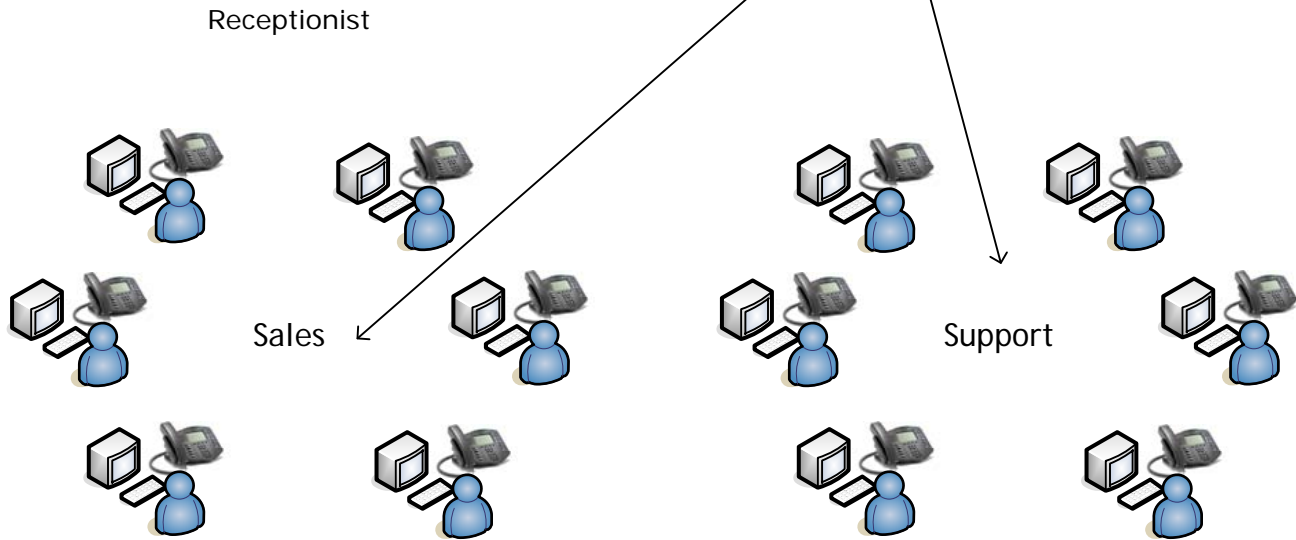

Customer Location

If you have a receptionist, then all calls going to the main number are routed to the receptionist's desk. Otherwise, you should use an Auto Attendant.

An Auto Attendant answers every incoming phone call and responds with voice prompts. 1 for Sales, 2 for Support, or 3 for a company directory.

The Auto Attendant sends the call to a single user or group. Each Hunt Group includes a list of users. When the Hunt Group is contacted it rings all parties in that group.

Find Me / Follow Me

The Follow-me feature routes incoming calls to a person trying each number in a pre-configured list until the call is answered. Not at your desk? Forward to your home phone, another office, or your cell phone!
